C.C.F. DAILY PAPER PLANNED

Incorporation papers have been filed for the Commonwealth Printing and Publishing Company, Limited, with a capitalization of $125,000, organized for the purpose of publishing a daily paper in Vancouver in the interests of the C.C.F. The directors named in the incorporation papers are Mrs. D. G. Steeves, housewife; Rev. Robert Connell, retired clergyman, C.C.F. member-elect of the B.C. Legislature; John Davidson, civil engineer; Angus McInnis, M.P., motorman, and Bob Springer, accountant.

Miss M. E. Moyle, teacher of the Alton school, spent the holidays at Youngstown—Vulcan Advocate. Miss Moyle was a former member of the Hillcrest teaching staff.

A delegation from the Alberta Hotelmen's Association waited upon the government at Edmonton recently, asking for several changes in the liquor laws. Among other requests was one that the opening and closing hours for beer parlors be changed to 9 a.m. to 11 p.m., instead of the present 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. They also asked for the privilege of selling beer by the bottle or can, to be taken off the premises for consumption.

THE BIG BONSPIEL

The big event of the year in Curling's Next Post curling circles will be staged next week, beginning Monday. This is the annual bonspiel of the Crows' Nest Curling Association, and brings together curlers from Cranbrook to Lethbridge. Last year the event was held in Fernie, and was a great success, and this year the curlers of Blairmore are all set to play hosts to 30 or more visiting rinks. Lethbridge is expected to send at least three ships with their crews.

There are five events in the bonspiel, the West Canadian Collieries, the Trites-Wood, the brewery, the International and the Liphardt, and the Blairmore club has secured splendid prizes in support of the competitions.

Six sheets of ice have been arranged for the bonspiel, which will keep all ships busy for a couple of days until the jewelry classes are reached. Though the weather has turned soft this week, Blairmore can usually count on good keel ice for the bonspiel event, and unless the weather turns much softer there will be no postponement. Monday is the big day, and all ships are warned to be ready. The Blairmore curlers are noted throughout the Puss for their hospitality. A big banquet is planned, and altogether the time of their lives is promised visiting curlers—Ex.

Great Britain has commenced her great offensive against the slum evil, and the Prince of Wales has given his customary spirited leadership. The extent of the drive in behalf of better housing is shown in the fact that the British government intends to demolish some 210,000 dwellings in various parts of the country. His Royal Highness started another tour through the industrial areas of England.

While this section of The Press was suffering from the worst storm period in forty years, the Cranbrook area enjoyed what was termed to be "banana-belt weather." They had the mild winter in many years, and the first at least where the robins have remained up until the first of January. Of course, while no was reported having wintered over local grown bananas in Blairmore, we had ducks, robins and turtles, in spite of the severe weather.

Lethbridge Grads went down to defeat against the local Columbus Club on Saturday night last by 7 to 24 score. The following comprised the local squad: Pire, L. Pozzi, Aschacker, J. Tompkins, Battel, Schlosser, Rinaldi, Fabro, J. Pozzi, Maniquet, Hickens. In an exhibition game preliminary, the local Cyclonettes won 15 to 7 against the United church Comets. Comets: Chappell, Linn, McDonald, Harmer, Carnahan, Moore and Hales. Cyclonettes: Aschacker, Christy, Campo, Yanota, Bobrosky, A. Kubie and M. Kubie.

The Enterprise has the opportunity to boast that every copy of every issue for every week and every year enter the homes of honest-to-goodness subscribers, who are delighted to keep squared up with an institution worthy while, and which all say they could not do without. It does not reach any home or premises in unsorted bunches, and never found tucked away in heaps between buildings, under sidewalks or promiscuously strewn over the post-office or other public floors. It is preserved in the home, looked forward to and read by every member of the household with interest.

AT COLE'S THEATRE NEXT WEEK

You will see John L. Sullivan fight again; Carrie Nation, the fighting reformer, raiding and wrecking the Bowers saloons; The Honky-Tonk girls in Chuck Conner's den of iniquity; Steve Brodie's jump from the Brooklyn Bridge; An exciting love story with Fay Wray—as the girl Chuck rescues from White Slavers.

A rip-roaring romantic comedy drama of the bad old days, with the gay old tunes—1a-1a-1a—com day with the girls.

"The Bowery" which will open Cole's Theatre on Friday, January 19th, brings to you those beloved characters, Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper in a story of New York in the gay nineties.

You will see Wallace Beery as "Chuck Conner, saloon owner and big shot of the Bowery." George Raff as Steve Brodie, "The man who took a chance." Jackie Cooper as Swipes the newsboy—and pal of Chuck Conner.

The annual bonspiel of the Crows' Nest Curling Association takes place at the local arena next week, and promises to be a largely attended affair. On account of the curlers requiring the arena for practically the full week, some slight changes of the hockey schedules were found necessary. The annual banquet will be held at the Greenhill Grill on Wednesday night.

The marriage was performed by Rev. W. T. Young, at Trinity United Church, Calgary, on Saturday, December 23rd, of Miss Kathleen Viola Smith of Calgary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith, formerly of Blairmore, to Harold B. Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Good, of Didsbury. Miss Nellie Lukaway and Miss Alice Smith acted as bridesmaids, while Mr. Frank Good supported the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Good will reside in Calgary.

It is said the one dollar penalty for "leer only" are coming back to Alberta this year. When the Alberta Liquor Control Act was first put into operation, permits good for all liquors were issued at two dollars, while permits for beer purchases only were issued at $1.00. About five years ago the latter were dropped, and will now likely come back. But, why the dollar or the two-dollar penalty for making a legal purchase? British Columbia has a general permit fee, good for all the year and all the family for a registration fee of 25 cents.

It looks as though the C.P.R. is going to give the bus lines a run for their money by meeting them in rate, and outdoing them in service. The railway company is inaugurating what is known as a "shuttle" service between the cities of Moose Jaw and Regina. Travellers between the two points will be served by seven trains a day, compared to the former four trains daily, mainly at inconvenient hours. The "shuttle" service will carry passengers at $1.25 single fare, or $1.55 return, the first being the present bus rate. Other similar experiments are to be tried. This seems to be the most sensible plan of meeting the bus competition of which we have heard, and beats by far all the propaganda that has been expounded. When you hit a man's pocket book, then you get action. In the past the railways have attempted to bluff their way through and ignore the bus competition, but they now know they are grappling with a real foe. They were lacking in perspicacity on the start, but they are gradually seeing the light—Cranbrook Courier.

MINE INSPECTORS HAVE VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Alex. B. Hunter, district mine inspector for the Alberta government at Drumheller, and W. G. Heeley, district mine inspector for Calgary and this district, had a very narrow escape recently when Mr. Hunter's car was struck by a railway freight drag at a crossing near the Drumheller high school as they were on their way to Wayne. Both jumped from the car, as the engine caught the front end and turned the car around. Mr. Hunter, who was at the wheel, was not hurt while Mr. Heeley had his knee hurt in the sudden leap.

Responsibility

It has become an almost universal habit to enter a new calendar year light-heartedly, in a spirit of gaiety, with nothing but words of happiness and good cheer upon our lips. And it is well that our greetings to one another on this annual occasion should take the form of good wishes for health, happiness and prosperity. But after the jollity attendant upon the passing of the old year and entry into the new be ended, there should come to most of us as intelligent men and women more serious thoughts and a deeper realization of the significance of a new year.

The tearing off from the calendar of the last monthy sheet of the old year, the opening of the diary of the new year at page one; the changing of the figures of the year from 1933 to 1934—these should bring home to us a new and greater sense of our individual responsibility in relation to the year upon which we have entered.

Because many of the big problems of the year are beyond our control; because many of the happenings of the year and its trends in this direction or that will develop irrespective of our views or actions, the fact should not be overlooked that the responsibility is ours for the determination and direction of numerous small matters which actually exert a far greater influence in the making or marring of our lives than these other so-called greater things which are beyond our control.

In the event of a great plague or epidemic of disease most of us would at once become alive to our responsibility to safeguard ourselves, our families, and our community from it. But how many of us give the same thought and accept the same responsibility for the determination of our health? Yet the state of our health, our vigor of mind and body, is a matter that most of us can determine to a large extent for ourselves. Health is the result of our habits and ways of living. It influences our lives possibly more than any other one thing. The responsibility is mainly our own to promote good health or bring on poor health; it is a responsibility that others cannot accept for us.

Again responsibility for our words and actions rests with ourselves. It is our duty to control our tongues, to weigh our words, to direct our actions. What misunderstandings, heart-burnings, pain and sorrow have been caused by a few thoughtless words; how many friendships have been broken and communities thrown into bitter strife because someone failed to recognize their responsibility before they spoke. It is such a simple thing to light a match, but the results of that simple act depend upon the use to which the lighted match is put; whether it is in the hands of a responsible or irresponsible person. It may provide a guide to a lonely wanderer and warmth and comfort and suitably prepared food for him, or it may start a conflagration resulting in the loss of many lives and destruction of much property. Our words, and our individual actions throughout the year, may have like beneficial or disastrous results. The responsibility rests with us.

In these unusual times possibly to a greater extent than in more normal times and under less trying conditions, the responsibility of individuals is increased even in face of the fact that the State is likewise compelled to assume new and heavier responsibilities. At a time of world-wide unemployment, when thousands of individuals find it impossible to procure a livelihood for themselves as they were formerly capable of doing, Government performance must make provision for them. But one of the present developments in our individual, community and economic life as a result of this enforced but temporary shifting of responsibility for the provision of the necessities of life for many, is the dissemination of the idea that such a condition should be made more or less permanent; that in the future the individual should assume and exert far less responsibility for his own well-being, and that the State should assume far more responsibility.

Whatever merit, or demerit, there may be in this view which, however, its finding acceptance in various countries under varying names, and under which the individual is losing much of his individuality and being more and more kept by, but at the same time moved about at the will of, the State, one thing does remain true so far as the people of Canada are concerned. The responsibility still rests with them as individuals to study this thing thoroughly and to reach their own conclusions as to whether it is in their own best interests and in the interests of their country; that is, whether such a shifting of responsibility will make for a better, nobler, stronger manhood and womanhood, which, in the final analysis, is the object and end of life.

The measure of a man is how he faces and accepts responsibility. All our education has but one main object,—the preparation of youth for the acceptance and discharge of such responsibilities as life may impose upon them. Placing responsibility upon them has been the salvation of many a person. It has led many away from folly, awakening them to the realities of life, widening their vision, and developing powers they little realized they possessed.

Let us throughout 1934 measure up to our responsibilities, whatever they may be, facing them fearlessly and discharging them courageously and efficiently to the best of our ability.

A Tired, Worn Out Woman Can't Make a Happy Home

There is no happiness in the home when the mother is sick and worried by the never ending household duties. She gets run down and becomes nervous and irritable, has shortness of breath, faint and dizzy, can't sleep, and gets up in the morning feeling as tired as she went to bed, and is downhearted and discouraged.

Milburn's H. & N. Pills will soon convince women it is not necessary to suffer as they have up to the nervous system and bring back the former health and vigor.

Export Of Farm Products

Ham, Bacon, Poultry And Eggs Show Increases

Canada doubled its exports of ham and hams this year as compared with 1932. The exports of live cattle were over twice as great. The exports of eggs in the shell increased seven-fold. Cheese exports were down.

When the final figures are in, the exports of ham and bacon will total about 75,000,000 pounds of which approximately 70,000,000 went to the United Kingdom. Last year 30,693,400 pounds went to the United Kingdom out of a total of 35,820,400 pounds.

Approximately 52,850 live cattle went from Canada to the United Kingdom this year. About 8,500 head went to other countries or a total of over 61,000 head. Last year 16,925 head went to United Kingdom and 11,896 to other countries, or 28,821 altogether.

The egg exports this year totalled about 2,000,000 dozen. Last year the total was only 272,000 dozen. On the other hand practically no eggs were imported. Some years back Canada used to export over 6,000,000 dozen but at that time about as many eggs were imported as exported.

Canada shipped about 1,000,000 pounds of dressed poultry, mostly turkeys, to the British market for the holiday trade. This was about 100,000 pounds more than last year when the movement was started.

The exports of butter this year exceeded last year's, but there was a marked falling off in cheese.

HOW ONE MAN LOST 19 lbs. FAT

Now Feels Absolutely Fit

A fat man is commonly supposed to be good-humoured, easy-going. But there is many a fat man who finds the going fast for the days of his youth. The following letter describes one typical instance:

"I began to put on weight this year, and developed stoutness in the stomach which was very ugly. I took Kruschen's Salts each morning for a month and reduced my weight 19 lbs. So I kept on, and have now reduced 19 lbs. altogether. Apart from that, it has also relieved me of heart, a headache, and I feel absolutely fit and working, ready for a hard day's work."—H. M.

Taken every morning, Kruschen effects a perfectly natural clearance of undigested food substances and all excessive watery waste matter. In less than this wastage is regularly expelled. Nature will eventually store it up out of the way in the form of fat. Once Kruschen gets into the blood you will soon see that double chin begin to go, and that too prominent abdomen begin to disappear.

Eskimo Goes Modern

Have Had First Labor Strike And Won "Hands Down"

The Eskimo has gone modern. They have had the first labor strike in their history. And they won it.

Out of the vastness of Canada's northland, 300 odd miles within the Arctic circle, comes the unique story of the victory of the diminutive dark-skinned wards of the country. It is the story of the Eskimo organizing labor for the first time and against odds other than the famed Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the historic Hudson's Bay Company. By the "moccasin" trail and other means of Arctic travel it reached Ottawa.

Baby needed for coastal Arctic posts, a congestion of police and company supplies was on hand at Akivik. The usual seasonal pay of $20 per ton for unloading was offered to the Eskimo. Sensing the exigencies of the situation, the wily "accordeons" sprung a surprise and held an impromptu meeting. They demanded $25 per ton and refused to compromise. The police and the company capitulated.

Some 20 Eskimo were involved in the strike. The pay went into a divided equally between them at the end of the navigation season. Credit accounts for the men were established accordingly for supplies at stores of the Hudson's Bay Company.

She—And why should I give you a kiss?
Sailor—Well, I just paid your little brother fifty cents to stay out of the room. I'd like some return on the investment.

More than 50 uses for corn cobs, once waste material, have been found.

"Can you love two girls at once?"
"Yes, sir, immediately!"

Growth Of Language

Constantly Enlarged By Addition Of New Words And Phrases

During the past year the English language has changed and grown, enlarged by the influx of scores of new words, the majority of which will become permanent.

The slang of today will in time become "good English," will find its way into the precincts of authoritative dictionaries and will become an intrinsic part of the language.

Prof. M. W. Wallace, head of the English department of the University of Toronto and principal of University College, drew attention to this fact. Words which have come into being during the past 12 months and now deemed by language purists will, in time, take a permanent berth in the language spoken over the greater part of the earth.

Only recently the Oxford dictionary was added to by an appendix which listed words such as gang, gangster and ga-ga, and Prof. F. Newton Scott in a pamphlet for the Society for Pure English listed words such as blaa, appeauce, elch, buck, hootch, bootlegger and wop.

Prof. Wallace stated it would be impossible for a language to remain "pure" as we know it today. Words which were tabooed by purists a century ago are now in common usage, he pointed out.

"The reason people use slang," he added, "is because it gives them an air of being up-to-date and at the same time allows them to express their thoughts without much effort." It was the fact that it required a minimum of effort to express their thoughts, he said, that people used it so extensively, he charged.

One slang word, "chizzel," was assumed of a permanent place in American English at least when President Franklin D. Roosevelt used it recently in an address. It is now regarded a legitimate word.

Although few others have received the presidential boost they are equally assured of being pronounced by a posterity. This was the opinion of Prof. Wallace and other English authorities.

Bone Model Of Ship

Beautiful Work On Display In Royal Naval College

One of the most beautiful models of an old-time fighting ship to be found in the world has been put on display in the Royal Naval College at Greenwich, England. It is entirely of bone, and is believed to have been made by one of the French prisoners of war who were held in England. Experts think they fashioned their material from the bones of the meat they were given to eat. The model belongs to Walter Runciman, president of the British Board of Trade. Lieut. George Hunt, curator of the college museum, has just completed repairing and rigging it. He used miles of silk twine and 771 ivory blocks and "dead eyes."

Canada's Non-Metallic Minerals

Dominion Is The Leading Producer Of Asbestos

Canada is the leading producer of asbestos, has the largest take output in the British Empire, and is one of the three mica-producing nations according to the Department of Mines, Ottawa. The Dominion is an exporter of feldspar, gypsum, salt, arsenic, diatomite, and grindstones, and a producer of sodium sulphate, natural and artificial abrasives, magnesite, silica, moulding sands, soapstone, phosphate and many others. Minerals known to occur rather extensively include barite, chromite, sulphur (pyrites), volcanic dust, and garnet. Developments of these minerals is largely in the initial stages. To the foregoing should be added structural materials which are generally classed as non-metals and which include clay, sand and gravel, limestone, granite, and marble. Occurrences of these are abundant in Canada and the main are of excellent quality.

New Treatment Found

Minnesota Doctor Announces Successful Remedy For Head Colds

A new highly successful treatment for head colds was announced by Dr. Harold S. Diehl, of the University of Minnesota, simultaneously with its publication in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The treatment, which employs codine and papaverine, two practically harmless opium derivatives, Dr. Diehl said, has resulted in "definite improvement" in the cases of 75 per cent of the students who used it. Medical records, it was pointed out, showed no other cold treatment so successful.

Lesson For The Future

Germany's Blow At International Confidence Something To Think About

Herr Hitler still speaks of his action as down-trodden slaves. All that has been done to mitigate the consequences of defeat and humiliation for Germany has counted, it seems, as nothing. The evacuation of the Rhineland was hastened. Foreign military control was abandoned when it might have been continued. Reparations have been wiped out. Germany has been welcomed to the league and raised to the rank of highest honor and influence in its councils. But because all-round disarmament and equality for herself have been promised for a few years hence, not at this moment, this damaging blow at international confidence has been delivered. It is a situation to be dealt with calmly now, but its lesson for the future is written on the face of it.

STORY IS TOLD OF THE CAPTURE OF RUM RUNNER

Halifax.—In a courtroom resembling a well equipped navigation school, witnesses unfolded details of the dramatic capture and subsequent disappearance in a December sleet storm of the rum-runner Kromhout with four Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers aboard.

Testifying at the preliminary hearing of the runner's master, Capt. Ross Mason, on a charge of stealing his own vessel after seizure by a preventive service cutter, First Officer Frank M. McKensie told how his R.C.M.P. cutter, had overtaken the Kromhout and seized it in the name of the king. Slowly he told of the Kromhout's dash to St. Pierre and ultimate arrest of Capt. Mason and his crew of seven men, all charged with aiding in theft of the vessel.

McKensie testified he and his companions of a prize crew had been removed forcibly from command of the seized motor vessel as the trailee of the cutter Stumble Inn towards port. "Don't you try to stop me or I will be just too bad for you," he quoted the rumrunner's master as saying while they fought for the wheel.

The struggle took place off the Cape Breton coast in a wild December storm. The Kromhout had been seized by the Stumble Inn—eight miles from land, according to McKensie's evidence—and they were heading for North Sydney. Two twin lines broke under the stress of weather and a third had been rigged when Captain Mason came up from below.

Able Seaman Murdoch McDonald of the Stumble Inn was at the wheel. As Mason reached the deck, Officer McKensie testified the Kromhout's powerful engines burst into a roar. "Let her go east," cried Mason, according to the officer.

"Go 'way, man," the seaman told Mason. Then, McKensie said, the rumrunner's captain pushed McDonald away from the helm and swung it around.

Situation Desperate

New York Mayor Favors Municipal Dictatorship

New York.—The establishment of a municipal dictatorship, unique in the operation of American cities, was the argument proposed by Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia for solving the financial crisis facing the city of New York.

Confronted with a staggering operating budget of more than $500,000,000 and a minimum deficit of $25,000,000, the new mayor asks a two-year period in which to operate with a free hand.

Under terms of his unparalleled proposal he would delegate to himself sweeping powers in the determination of economies.

Would Ban Big Incomes

Senator Long To Introduce Bill Providing For Drastic Legislation

Washington.—Senator Huey P. Long, Louisiana Democrat, said he would introduce a bill in United States congress, providing old age pensions for persons over 60 years, and prohibiting anyone from receiving an annual income of more than $1,000,000, inheriting more than $5,000,000 or owning property or money worth more than $50,000,000.

"All surplus over and above such amounts," permitted to an individual would be paid into the treasury "in cash or in kind," under the bill.

Burn Tons Of Coffee

Brazilian Coffee Growers Use Method To Reduce Surplus

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil.—Outdoing their previous efforts, Brazilian coffee growers burned 918,065 tons of interior coffee in 1933 and brought to 1,716,000 tons the amount destroyed since July, 1931.

The federal coffee department, in announcing the figures, estimated stocks have been so reduced that normal exports can be shipped when the new crop is ready in July.

Game Ends In Tragedy

Hamilton, Ont.—The childhood game of "Cowboy and Indian" ended in death for eight-year-old Donald Springstead. While playing with Richard Collins the young lad received wounds in the chest when a shotgun Collins was handling accidentally discharged.

A Bright Future

Dean Ingo Sees Hope For Large Country: With Small Population London.—Very Rev. Ralph Ingo, the "bloomy dean" of St. Paul's, foresees a bright future for large countries of little population at present, such as Canada.

The dean, who retires this year from the historic cathedral, declares in the new edition of his book, "England," that the position of Great Britain as one of the great powers is bound to decline relatively though not absolutely.

"The future, as regards effective forces and wealth, belongs to large countries not yet full of people," he adds.

Declaring that the dominions may not always be willing to support the Mother Country, the dean observes further that "it seems to me to be almost certain that we shall be unable to find food and work for our present population."

"For this reason I favor emigration or better state-directed colonization."

Discussing arms and armies, Dean Ingo makes this prediction:

"If in the future we are attacked by a European coalition we may take it as probable that the United States will leave us to our fate unless, indeed, we are invaded by a black army."

Other quotations from the volume: "Looseness of conduct is unquestionably spreading downward to classes where it was almost unknown."

"Knowledge of methods of birth control has had unfortunate results on the morals of many persons of both sexes."

Valuable Painting Destroyed

Loss of Canvas Said To Have Aroused International Interest

Ottawa.—The celebrated canvas, "Angels' Choir," by Van Dyck, destroyed in the fire at the Gleason residence, was purchased from C. S. Parsons, of the department of mines, Ottawa, native Nova Scotia, by John Gleason, well known Ottawa business man, it was revealed here. International interest has been aroused by the loss of the picture, one of the three paintings each known as "Angels' Choir" or "Concert Des Angels" attributed to the Flemish master.

Covered with dust, it was found rolled up in a Greenbush, N.Y., attic on September 23, 1848, said Mr. Parsons.

The painting, according to Mr. Gleason, had been taken out of Belgium by soldiers of Napoleon and brought to Albany, N.Y., more than 100 years ago by a French doctor. Even Germany was equipping over the transatlantic telephone about the destroyed painting. But Mr. Gleason was too ill from the shock of the fire to answer.

Viscount Churchill Dead

Was Prominent In English Business And Political Life

London.—Victor Albert Spencer, 69, first Viscount Churchill of Wyndwood, died of pneumonia and is succeeded by his son, Victor Alexander Spencer, whose wife is a Victoria girl. The new Viscountess Churchill is Kathleen, daughter of the late Robert Heaton, premier of British Columbia, from 1892 to 1898. She was the widow of Captain Venn Ellis when she married Spencer in 1916. Chairman of the Great Western Railway, the dead viscount was prominent in numerous fields of activity—business, political and social. He was one of the Conservative whips in the house of lords. He was the godson of Queen Victoria, lord chamberlain at the coronation of King Edward VII, and master of the robes at the coronation of King George.

Threat Of War

Speaker In Winnipeg Sees Many Signs

Winnipeg.—Proposed amalgamation of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways is evidence Canada is preparing for war, declared Peter Hunter, Hamilton, Ont., in an address here.

Mr. Hunter, Canada's sole representative at the world youth anti-war congress in Paris last September, spoke to the Winnipeg Youth Anti-war congress. He said amalgamation of the two railways would permit quicker mobilization of troops.

Among other evidence war was near, said Mr. Hunter, was the heavy manufacture of equipment needed for troops and the existence in Montreal of "80,000 Fascist Green Shirts."

MESSAGE OF ROOSEVELT IS WELL RECEIVED

Washington.—In a vigorously worded, personally delivered message, President Roosevelt pointed out an enthusiastic United States congress toward his conception of a permanent recovery on a new basis.

The president thrust deeply toward some of the recently disclosed practices of big business in the banking and speculative fields.

He told the joint session of congress that the "United States is definitely in the process of recovery," and proposed a permanent of the principles of his monetary, agricultural and industrial policies.

For new fields or immediate effort, he asked "stringent preventative or regulatory measures" in business affairs and a governmental and public war against organized crime.

If the warm welcome given Mr. Roosevelt by the legislators when he appeared to read his annual message was any criterion, he will have as little trouble with this session as with the emergency gathering he called last spring. In fact, Democratic leaders were confidently predicting that congress would do what the president wanted it to do and go quietly home in May.

Addressing a joint session of the senate and the house personally, he asked co-operation "to continue the restoration of our national well-being and, equally important, to build on the ruins of the past a new structure designed better to meet the present problems of modern civilization."

"We have ploughed the furrow and planted the good seed," he said. "The hard beginning is over. If we would reap the full harvest we must cultivate the soil where this good seed is sprouting and the plant is reaching up to mature growth."

"We have been shocked by many notorious examples of injuries done our citizens by persons or groups who have been living off their neighbors by the use of methods either unethical or criminal."

"To the first category—a field which does not involve violation of the letter of our laws—practices have been brought to light which have shocked those who believe that we were in the past generation raising the ethical standards of business. They call for stringent preventive or regulatory measures. I am speaking of those individuals who have evaded the spirit and purpose of our tax laws, of those high officials of banks or corporations who have grown rich at the expense of their stockholders or the public, of those reckless speculators with their own or other people's money whose operations have injured the values of the farmers' crops and the savings of the poor."

Honors for Saskatoon Professor Saskatoon.—W. G. Worcester, professor of ceramics, University of Saskatchewan, has been honored with a fellowship in the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He was already a fellow of the American Ceramic society and member of the Canadian Ceramics society.

Drop In Alberta Motor Licenses Slight Considering Conditions Edmonton.—Automobile licenses issued in Alberta during 1933 were only 260 fewer than the year before, numbering 85,250 as compared with 85,010. Of these 71,076 were for passenger cars and 14,174 for trucks.

The year's figures are considered by government officials highly satisfactory, in view of economic conditions that prevailed throughout the year.

Cold Weather Delays Train Edmonton.—Transcontinental train of the Canadian National Railways was delayed 45 minutes during recent cold weather when the whistle and bell of the giant "6,000" class locomotive froze up. It is related by railwaymen. The case is the first of its kind in Edmonton railway history.

Arms Revision

Premier Mussolini Confers With Sir John Simon

Rome.—A revision of arms figures calculated to strike a satisfactory balance among the armaments of the powers, rather than a wholesale slash previously favored by Italy, was said authoritatively to have been suggested by Premier Benito Mussolini to Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary.

The two statesmen conferred for more than two hours seeking a way of solving the present Franco-German deadlock on disarmament.

One of the subjects discussed was the reform of the League of Nations. Mussolini, it is understood, explained his ideas.

A significant article on the subject appears in L'Avanti, Fascist newspaper, which says: "In general, the lines of reform of the League of Nations should be along tax principle which today regulates the British commonwealth of nations. Nations forming part of the British commonwealth are in no way deprived of their rights. It is recognition of the value of natural forces which permit the British commonwealth to maintain its unity, and this same thing should happen for the league."

May Have Fewer Members

Alberta Considering Reduction Of Seats In Legislature

Edmonton.—Reduction of the number of members of the Alberta legislature, possibly to 45 or 50, compared with 63 at present, is expected to be one of the major questions up for discussion at the session expected to commence February 8.

This has been under consideration for some time, a redistribution committee having been named at the last session to deal with the problem and submit a report.

DISTINCT SIGNS OF BUSINESS RECOVERY NOTED

Montreal.—While business conditions were far below normal to the end of 1933 there have been distinct and positive evidences of improvement," writes Paul Bilkey, editor-in-chief, in the Gazette's commercial and financial review for the year 1933.

Writing under the title "Looking back on 1933 and its business conditions," Mr. Bilkey said, in part: "Canada in common with the rest of the world, has passed through a year marked by events so momentous that it is not yet possible to estimate the full extent of their influence. The depression, which so many people hoped was coming to an end in 1932, not only continued through the 12 months that have just closed, but developed increased severity at least in the early part of the year, and the remedial efforts which were attempted from time to time by individual nations, or by the nations collectively, were frustrated in large measure by European political uncertainties, the ineptitude of governments, and a general condition of international distrust."

"The failure of disarmament negotiations and the breakdown of the League of Nations produced a situation on the continent of Europe, and extending into the Far East, which rendered the composition of world monetary difficulties virtually impossible. The vexed question of international indebtedness remained, and is still, a factor of major importance in preventing the restoration or purchasing power throughout the world and the reconstruction of world trade."

"Nevertheless, while business conditions were far below normal to the end of 1933, there have been distinct and positive evidences of improvement. A marked recovery has been witnessed in Great Britain and even on the continent of Europe. The trend had been upward, Mr. Bilkey said. "The gains have been relative, but at the same time substantial, and in Canada there has been a very noteworthy industrial expansion, a hardening of prices and a general revival of confidence. There can be very little doubt that a really strong movement along the road to economic recovery in Canada is being delayed only by the influence of external conditions."

"The year opened badly in the Dominion and conditions were at their worst in February, but from that time on there was an almost continuous increase in manufacturing activity and in other important branches of trade."

"A more general upward movement would, no doubt, have occurred but for the very unsatisfactory condition of the wheat market and the resulting lack of new wealth in the prairie provinces." Reviewing the small grain crop, Mr. Bilkey continues: "Hitherto the sale of Canada's surplus wheat at satisfactory prices has been one of the main contributors to the national prosperity and the principal factor in western progress. The determination of wheat-consuming countries in Europe to make themselves as largely as possible self-sustaining has been a blow to this phase of Canadian economic life, and it seems doubtful now whether the wheat growing industry and the various marketing agencies dependent upon it can count upon anything but a slow and partial recovery of the old markets."

There had been a general gain in business during the year of more than 35 per cent and in manufacturing of something over 65 per cent. The building trades had a decidedly unfavorable year, but there was prospect of better things in 1934, including a large-scale construction programme sponsored and financed by the Dominion government.

ARMS QUESTION MUST COME TO QUICK DECISION

Rome.—Premier Mussolini and Sir John Simon, the British secretary for foreign affairs, reached full agreement on a policy of abandonment of disarmament proposals incapable of being put into effect now.

"I Duce and Sir John Simon are in complete accord," said a statement, "in recognizing that it is absolutely indispensable that disarmament discussions cease to a conclusion quickly."

"All ideas and proposals that do not embody elements that are practical and capable of prompt realization should be abandoned."

The Fascist press, meanwhile, pleaded for unity, harmony and solidarity to face the expressed disapproval of President Franklin D. Roosevelt of the United States to participate in the League of Nations and the so-called "menace to world peace arising in the far east."

Big Spending Program

President Roosevelt Asks Congress For Huge Sums

Washington.—President Roosevelt asked congress to approve the biggest peacetime spending program in United States history and, despite some headwinds, it was soon apparent that his recommendations would be enacted in much the same form as he submitted them.

Reduced to simplest terms, the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, and estimates for the remainder of the current year forecast:

Government borrowing of $10,000,000,000 in the next six months.

Expenditures for the two years totalling $16,529,205,667, receipts aggregating $7,234,604,234, a deficit for the two years combined of $9,294,601,433. The deficit for 1934-35, $12,317,200, was set down as emergency spending intended to further the recovery program.

Of these disbursements, $5,017,488,467 were listed as general cut, the balance of the ordinary expenses of the government and the remainder, $11,512,317,200, was set down as emergency spending intended to further the recovery program.

Pursuing Wheat Inquiry

Status Of Shipment Through New York Still Under Advisement

New York.—The British board of customs is pursuing its inquiry as to the status of a test shipment of Canadian wheat through New York to England.

It was announced here recently the test shipment from Fort William a Buffalo and New York had been admitted free, after two previous shipments had been held liable to the six-cent tariff against grain other than that shipped direct from the Dominions to England.

It is now learned that after the British customs accepted the current shipment, the question was again taken under advisement by the board of customs in whose hands it remains at present.

Seek Empire Parliament

Flea Made By Adherents Of Movement In England

London.—A plea for an imperial parliament to deal with imperial affairs, with separate English, Welsh and Scottish parliaments for domestic affairs similar to the Belfast and Dublin parliaments was put forward at a meeting of adherents of the empire movement.

The speaker was Col. T. C. Moore, Conservative member of parliament for Ayr. He declared the Ottawa agreements had done a great deal, but much more must be done to link the empire close.

Sir Frank Fox, another speaker, urged removal of empire migration, declaring if the population of other Dominions was raised to the same density as of New Zealand, 30,000,000 people could be settled in them.

Alarm: A Call to Arms

From the old French summons to battle a l'arme! "to arms!" it seems a far cry to the modern alarm clock; yet that is actually the scope of the word's development. A l'arme! was first the call itself and then, in the form-alarm, it became the name of this sudden summons. The English alarm, which comes from this origin, first had the same meaning, but gradually broadened to denote a warning signal of any kind of danger, and then the apparatus for giving this signal, such as a fire bell. Perhaps the clock which rings in the morning it suggestive of a fire bell, or perhaps it rings a warning that it is time to get up—however that may be, it is called an alarm clock.

It is interesting to note also that alarm has developed an additional meaning—the fear which results from a warning of danger.

Alimony: Feeding the Estranged Wife. Alimony can be called literally a "meal ticket" when we consider the original source of the word. It is borrowed from the Latin alimonia, "nourishment," "sustenance," from alere, "to nourish." The primitive English meaning was "maintenance" or "the means of livelihood," a meaning which is now overshadowed by the use of the word in connection with separated couples.

Alphabet: A and B. Just as we refer to our ABC's, using the first three letters to mean the complete list, as a whole, so the Greek used alpha and beta, their names for "a" and "b," the first two letters. The combination of these two, alpha plus beta, is the origin of the English word alphabet.

Ambition: A Going About for Votes. Even in ancient Rome candidates for public office went about soliciting votes. This activity was denoted by the word "ambitio," "a going about, around." Ambitio was derived from ambire, "to go about," which in turn was formed from amb-, "about," and ire, "to go." Since this activity indicated a desire for honor or power, the word ambitio came to mean the desire for official honors. The word was borrowed in French into English as ambition, and its meaning broadened to denote the earnest desire for preferment or achievement.

An Aberdeenian went to a Glasgow football match. On his return, a friend asked: "An?" did they have a big gate?" "Big gate, did ye say?" queried the traveller. "Big gate?" It was easily the biggest I've ever climbed over."

A Mrs. Hangan at Coleman had just taken a pie out of the oven, when her husband remarked: "What a long pie! It's really too big for us."

"I can't help it," replied the better half. "I shopped all over Coleman, and that was the shortest ribbon I could find."

Indian Head (Saak.) News. In early days, when Dominion government supplies were distributed to the Indians, this was one of the meeting places for the tribes who gathered to get their tea, sugar and other provisions. It became known as a meeting place for the Indians, or Indian Head-quarters. Hence the name Indian Head.

The Walnut Kernel is the only publication with this name, secured through a prize naming contest when the paper was started. It's a natural."—Lynan E. Stoddard, editor and publisher.

Sistersville (W. Va.) Daily Review.

Sistersville, which, according to the United States Official Postal Guide, is the only postoffice of that name, for two of the daughters of Charles Wells, who was born in Baltimore County, Maryland, April 6, 1746, came to this part of the country about 1802, and died here April 16, 1815. He had married twice, and was the father of twenty-two children, the twentieth of whom he named Twenty, the twenty-first Plenty, and the twenty-second and last Betsy. Mr. Wells, who had acquired title to several thousand acres of land on the Ohio River, left a large farm to each of his surviving children. To Delilah Wells Grier and Sarah Wells McCoy, two of his daughters, he gave 400 acres of land here. This land was divided into ninety-six lots by the sisters and, the resultant town site became known as Sistersville. During the life of their father the local designation of this place was Wells' Landing, sometimes called Ziggleton. The Daily Review was founded in 1895 by J. Hanford McCoy, a direct descendant of Sarah Wells McCoy, one of the sisters who established this town.—Jimmie Hale, editor.

They pin a fishing story to two well known local Waltonians, who went up the South Fork to try their luck.

Sitting some distance apart, these fishermen cast their lines into the swirling water.

One of them pulled up a sucker. Seeing what he had secured, he uttered an earnest oath, pulled it up the hook, and flung it back into the water.

A few minutes later the other one hooked a beautiful trout. To the amazement of the first he calmly took it off the hook and flung it back into the South Fork.

"What's the big idea?" shouted Vaughn, as well as he could above the roar.

"I saw you doing it," replied Bart. "I concluded you were just fishing for fun!"

John Nelson, president of Rotary International, sailed recently by Empress of Britain on his way to Lausanne where the second European regional conference of the world-wide organization was held this month. He stated that Rotary had 150,000 members in 300 clubs.

"If from the conferences, speeches and exhibitions at the World's Grain Exhibition at Regina we can derive even one suggestion of importance to agriculturists, the show will be voted a success," said W. S. McFory, manager, United Grain Growers office in Calgary, in a recent address at the Palliser Hotel in that city.

Airplanes which may be taxed from the neighborhood landing field to one's own garage, and which cost not more than $700, are not nearly so remote as they sound. Their feasibility has been thoroughly tested. It can be taxed with the propeller idle on an ordinary road, and kept in a garage 26 feet long. The operating cost is said to be only two cents a mile.

For the first time in western Canada, an impressive ceremony, the age-old investiture of the Knights of St. John was held recently at the Hotel Vancouver, Vancouver when six British Columbians were admitted by King George, sovereign head of the order, to high honors. Old world costumes and strange rites added to the dignity and color of the proceedings.

Railways and their important functions in the economic existence of the State were stressed by G. G. Ommanney, development commissioner of the Canadian Pacific Railway at the annual banquet of the Traffic Club of Hamilton recently. They had, he said, contributed materially to development of natural resources, building up of industries and in promoting land settlement and agriculture.

Railway and motor truck transportation are both essential to the economic wellbeing of Canada and neither should be antagonistic to the other, stated Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways and canals, at a national conference on transportation held at Ottawa recently. But, he added, while railways are subject to strict regulation and control, motor truck service has not as yet been brought under any comparable control or regulation.

Good PRINTING IS A GOOD SALESMAN

REMEMBER:

When you need an advertisement; send out a circular, broadside, pamphlet, letterhead, business card, or in fact any piece of printing, that it stands for YOU.

You can't make excuses for it. If it's in bad taste, if its face is dirty, so to speak, because it is poorly displayed or printed, your advertisement or stationery will be a detriment rather than a help.

Good printing is a good salesman—see that it is good by having it done here, and you will get satisfactory results every time—at a fair price.

We have a practical experience in the execution of good printing and are ready to serve you.

With returns figured up to Dec. 28, the Dominion revenue for the nine months of the fiscal year was $239,138,356, $592,490 higher than the corresponding period last year.

Joseph Fahey, 76, pioneer of the west is dead. A pioneer railroad man, he was the conductor on the train that carried the Winnipeg 90th Rifles to Qu'Appelle to quell the Northwest Rebellion in 1885.

During the past twelve months the imports of butter totalled 1,409,434 pounds at $242,038 compared with 201,741, at $40,891, in the province 12 months, says a report by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Canadian companies will pay a total of $14,416,000 in dividends during the month of January, 1934, compared with $13,850,000 in January, 1933, according to an estimate made at Montreal.

Policy Helps Canada

Exchange Situation Decreases Indebtedness To U.S.

Canada has been placed in a much improved position, as far as her outside indebtedness is concerned, by the policy of the present United States administration. Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, states in a review of conditions at the close of 1933.

A year ago, the minister says, it was estimated that $2,348,000,000 of Canadian bonds, including Dominion, provincial, municipal and private corporation, were payable in the United States funds. This involved, at the rate of exchange in December, 1932, "an additional obligation of practically $500,000,000 for exchange, thus being equivalent to approximately $3,750,000,000 in Canadian funds."

"That extra obligation in principle, together with the corresponding obligation for interest," says Mr. Stevens, "has been swept away in 1933, materially lightening the burden which this country is carrying."

The minister's review cites improved conditions in the past year as a warrant for looking forward to gradual recovery in 1934.

Reading At A Distance

Most Legible Print Is Black On Yellow Background

From experiments made regarding the most favorable color combinations for reading at a distance, it was found that the most legible print was black upon yellow background. The order of merit obtained for different combinations is somewhat surprising, and is as follows: (1) black on yellow; (2) green on white; (3) red on white; (4) blue on white; (5) white on blue; (6) blue on blue; (7) yellow on black; (8) white on red; (9) white on green; (10) white on black; (11) green on red; (12) red on green. It will be noticed, among other things, that the customary combination of black upon yellow comes sixth in the list, about half way down.

Stands Practically Alone

Prime Ministers Always Have To Make Final Decisions

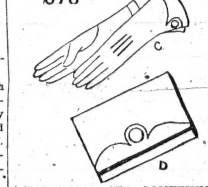

Most people seem to think that a premier wrecks a man's health because of the long hours, the hand-shaking and the innumerable duties. That's not it. What wrecks a man down, what breaks a weak man, is the fierce burden of decision and the loneliness of final responsibilities. That is what tells. For most of us there is always someone higher up who must take the final responsibility, make the last decision. But a prime minister must go it alone, knowing that what he does is irrevocable and that it probably will distress many of his friends. Making those decisions several times a day is what takes the steam out of you.

Royal Bank of Canada in Strong Liquid Position

Gratifying Increase Of Over $18,000,000 in Canadian Savings and Demand Deposits—Total Assets Amount to $729,260,476. Of This Amount Liquid Assets Are $362,471,645, Equal to $5.76 Per Cent of Liabilities for the Public—Cash and Bank Balances Total $157,699,215, Equal to 24.26 Per Cent of Public Liabilities.

An uniformly strong and particularly satisfactory statement is being forwarded to the shareholders of the Royal Bank of Canada.

The report, which covers the fiscal year to 30th November, shows a liquid position with the lessened demand for banking accommodation due to the trade conditions that prevailed, the bank has added materially to its strong liquid position. Included among these liquid assets are very substantial holdings of cash.

The less active conditions, as well as the lower rate of interest on high grade investments, has naturally had its effects on earnings. The return for the year, however, were sufficient to provide the dividends, and after the usual appropriations permitted of a substantial addition over the year to Profit and Loss account.

A very gratifying feature of the statement is a notable increase of over $18,000,000 in Canadian savings and demand deposits. Such a development would likely be due to a desire of Canadians to keep strong in cash by adding steadily to their savings, while the increase in demand deposits, which represent the working balances of businesses and farming customers, evidently indicates a marked stimulation in the turnover of a great many lines of businesses.

The unsettled state from which business is now emerging, has emphasized the usefulness of strong inner reserves. The Directors' recognition of this fact is evidenced by a transfer of $15,000,000 from Reserve Fund to reimburse the inner reserves of the bank, and to provide reserves which they consider adequate for future contingencies. This action is in line with adjustments which have been made by many of the leading and most powerful banks in all parts of the world, and will be regarded as a prudent and constructive move. The published Reserve Fund is maintained at the substantial figure of $200,000,000.

Elk Thrive In Ontario

Herd Sent From West Doing Well At Pembroke And Sudbury

That the herds of elk sent by the Dominion Department of the Interior from Buffalo National Park in Alberta to Ontario and placed in the Provincial Crown Preserves near Pembroke and on the farm lands of the Burwash Industrial Farm 20 miles east of Sudbury have settled down and are thriving in their new surroundings is reported by the Ontario Department of Game and Fisheries. The twenty-five head established near Pembroke have had an increase of five young in 1933, while a similar increase has been reported from the herd of fifty at Burwash. Three adult elk died at the Burwash farm but the remainder of the herd as well as all those at Pembroke are in splendid condition states the report.

Salt Kills No Microbes

Tests Show, They Thrive When Placed In Brine

It is a mistake to suppose that salt, used as a preservative, is fatal to microbes, for the bacilli of typhus, tuberculosis and several other diseases thrive when placed in brine. Blood contains much salt and this does not prevent microbes from multiplying in it. A French professor counted 30,000 bacteria per cubic centimetre in the concentrated brine used for salting fish. Preservatives and bactericides are different things. Salt preserves from decay, but kills no microbes.

Marvels of the Human Eye
By F. M. CROWE, Optometrist-Optician, Calgary

NO. 41—HYPEROPIA OR "FAR-SIGHTEDNESS"

The normal or standard eyeball is about twenty-four millimeters or one inch in depth. Such an eye with properly curved Cornea and Lens will focus the rays of light emerging from objects looked at, on the Retina, and the brain will interpret the image clearly and with comfort.

Should however an eyeball be too short or the Cornea and Lens too flat, the natural point of focus would be behind the Retina, which being impossible, dim or indistinct vision is the result. Such is the Hyperopic eye.

Nature has provided that such an eye may overcome this trouble to a limited extent by forcing the Lens to become more convex (Accommodation), but this being a forced focus requires a greater amount of nervous energy than the rest of the body can well spare, sooner or later unpleasant symptoms develop in the form of headaches, nervousness, insomnia, unreasonable irritability, indigestion, constipation, indigestion, in fact

Harvesting Methods

Moisture And Grade Survey Of Various Methods Used

In a moisture and grade survey of grain harvested by various methods in Western Canada during the 1932-1933 season, it was found that straight-combined wheat showed a greater percentage of tough and tramp samples than either thrasher or threshing machine samples. Of 401 straight-combined samples, three per cent were tough or damp; of 416 straight-combined samples twenty-two per cent were tough and three per cent damp; and of 211 thrasher samples, one per cent were tough and one per cent damp. With respect to grade, it was found that, as a result of exposure to rains the average grade lowering was least for thrashed grain and greatest for straight-combined grain. — Canadian Journal of Research.

Improvement In India

Great Country Being Convinced Of Britain's Good Faith

India is no longer a land more free from serious crime, and more imbued with good will towards Britain than for years past. Sir Samuel Hoare has recently claimed that there is greater support for the police among the Indian public. If the evidence of that is not outstanding, there are the most tangible proofs that the dual policy of preserving law and order while proceeding with constitutional reform is convincing India of our good faith and undermining the extremist element in her politics. — London Daily Telegraph.

BAPTISM AND TEMPTATION OF JESUS

Golden Text: "It behooved Him in all things to be made like unto His brethren." — Hebrews 2:17.

Lesson Text: Matthew 3:1-11.

Devotional Reading: Hebrews 2:11-13.

Explanations and Comments.

The Conversion of Jesus For His Mission, 3:15-17.—On their return from Egypt, Mary and Joseph and the Babe went back to Nazareth, and there Jesus lived till he was thirty years old. Then, when John was baptizing, Jesus realized that the hour had struck for Him to leave His home and go forth as the Leader and Saviour of men. John's preaching at the Jordan was the signal for Jesus' appearance on the baptismal scene. The former's hands were not only a public endorsement of John as a messenger of God, but was also for Him a formal setting apart, a consecration, for His great mission. The open sky as He left the water was the revelation to Him of spiritual forces within His reach. Dr. F. B. Meyer reminds us that Jesus saw His heavenly Father as Newton did when he discovered the law of gravitation. "Always a shut heaven to the disbeliever," always deeper depths opening into the heart of heaven for those who obey." — F. B. Meyer.

Seven Years Behind Time

Train In Texas Halted Record For Late Arrival

A train on the old Gulf and Interstate Railway arrived at its destination more than seven years behind time. The train started from Beaumont, Texas, on September 8th, 11 a.m., and on September 5th, 1900. The distance is seventy-one miles, and the train was in Port Bolivar at 1:55 p.m. When it reached High Island it was surrounded by waters from the Gulf of Mexico, which had flooded the railway. Eventually the road was rebuilt, and when the rusty locomotive was examined she was found fit to complete her journey. She was fired up, and amid cheers of everyone she moved off creaking and screeching. The train was telegraphed to Port Bolivar, and when the train, more than seven years late arrived, half a dozen of the original passengers assembled to greet it.

The orchard is one of the largest in Europe, having 200,000 pear and 6,000 peach bearers. Several varieties of each fruit have been planted in order to determine the best suited to soil and climate. The promoters intend to export their crop when the time seems propitious.

Shall we adopt the Japanese handkerchief? That is a suggestion that arises from the advice of Dr. Percy Edgewood, of Queen Anne Street, London, England, who has been interested in the question, "What is cold?" how do you catch it? How cure it? There are several answers to this query or queries. His is a radical one.

Dr. Edgewood declares that a large number of cases are the result of auto-inoculation. The germ origin, he says, is situated in the pockets of those thus affected. "A handkerchief saturated with the infective crystal (i.e. cold in the hand) discharges from the nose or mouth is deposited in the pocket, and will transmit this infection to the walls of the pocket. Micro-organisms are placed with remain active for months and are capable of affecting a clean handkerchief when brought into contact with them."

Dr. Edgewood holds that the ordinary foxed pockets are notoriously dirty, often filthy, and certainly carry infection. Pockets should be made to be easily removed and replaced after thorough cleansing and sterilizing by boiling in this same way as an ordinary handkerchief.

After wearing such pockets for a year, Dr. Edgewood states he has lost "an inveterate coryza which had troubled me for a very long time without traceable cause." He has his coat and trouser pockets regularly removed, thoroughly washed and disinfected now, with a "very gratifying result."

Another experience is related by a layman who has suffered most of his life from colds in the head. The experiment has continued now for six months during which time he would ordinarily have had six different colds in the head, whereas he has had none. Remedy has been in giving up as nearly as possible; the use of sugar, or only in the most sparing way in his food and entirely abandoning the use of candy or sweetmeats of any kind.

The philosophy of this is that sugar contributes to the acidity of the blood and body, which should naturally be alkaline. Without sugar in artificial forms the natural alkalinity of the body remains in balance and checks the growth of any kind of germs, including the coryza or cold in the head, which is merely an effort of the blood to rid itself of these germs in the disagreeable manner familiar to so many people.

Encouraging Signs Of Industrial Recovery In Canada

Among the encouraging signs of industrial recovery, the increase in employment in logging operations is of special significance from the standpoint of winter work. The five-year period, 1928-30, when 105,000 were on the payroll in November.

During those five years, which may be taken as normal, the average number engaged in logging throughout the year was estimated to be 81,000, but the monthly averages varied from 54,500 in August to 139,000 in February. If this trend is followed in 1934, there should be 120,000 men at work during the next four months.

The advantage of having an industry which is capable of absorbing from 60,000 to 70,000 additional men during the winter months when work in many other occupations is curtailed is apparent.

The Forest Service of the Department of the Interior attributes this increase in the activity of the logging camps to the increased exportation of lumber, especially to the United Kingdom and other parts of the Empire, and to improved conditions in the pulp and paper industry, together with the steady work of the five-year period, 1928-30, when 105,000 were on the payroll in November.
